THE CONDITION OF THE REPUBLI-UAN PARTY

present time is not encouraging to carry the State for McKinley, fotore success by the Republican party or to the administration. There is not any confidence that can be discovered in the actions of State conventions which have convened to appoint delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia. There is no enthusiasm in the rank and file of the party that indicates an aggressive policy, or that is necessary to make a success of the approaching campaign. Silence and doubt seems to be the cheaf feature at present in all departments of political action by the party in power.

The State conventions have declared in general terms their abiding faith in the party. The administration of Me-Kinley has been endorsed by general resolutions that were more pronounced because of omissions than they were because of what they contained. These conventions have not outlined any national policy, or given any expression that might aid the national canvention to form a platform to accord with the Cal. judgment or conscience of the BJohn M. Daniels of Virginia City

There is in all there has been said or done a manifest ignorance about the instion. intention of the national leaders respecting any declared policy for the Tosesrora is now being done by comcampaign. Mark Hauna has said the party was still unbroken and in form power at the electric beths. in the Republican States, which is about all there has been said respecting the future. The expression of Mark in cludes a doubt about the future abil ity of the party to become aggressive, also received a iffattering offer to join It has a meaning that includes much the company. more than a casual review of the statement will give to the mind.

Why should any remarks of the nature made by the Senator be in dulged to by him is a question perhaps when solved that may lead to the cause that brought it to the surface of the Senator's mind in the form of words. The Senator knows the party has undergone a severe strain since Congress convened, which is a general cause that includes all conditions that have brought upon the party the great strain there is on it. The strain is caused by the weight of political iniquity there is upon the party, most of which has been placed upon it by the ill shapen work of Congress and the administration since November, which is more particularly included in reached Queenstown, Ireland, in about lute indifference to the will of the people as expressed in many ways respect-

The tendency of the money power, which is the ruling power in the party, to imperialize the government by setting aside the principles so dear to many intelligent man and good people, is an additional proposition that will not be principalship at the coming stection of overlooked by many of the best people there are in the party.

The betrayal of the people upon the money question, including the free schools continuously for the past coinage of silver, is not among the eleven years, and as an educator ranks small matters there are which have second to none in the State, given much sause for thought and complaint, and which will effect an alienation of a large number of voters, whose support will be transferred to the champion of the rights of man, William Jonnings Bryan.

To continue a catalogue of the mattere that make up a general cause would require more time and space than we command Those that are given will lead the minds of many of our readers to other and additional matters there are which caused the words to be spoken by Mark Hanna respecting the condition of the Republican party,

Uncertain action caused by doubt and a feeling of depression is everywhere present in the work of the party. It now has the appearance of a defeated political body, that will enter the canvass without adhesion or order of battle. The chief force there will be to bring success to the broken have taken up their residence in this ranks of the party will be money. Its city. Nevada State Journal will not do in any spinitged sense in the approaching contest. The domineering affect of the dollar there is present everywhere will receive a rebuke during the contention that will keep it largely in the shadow of good manners, and the people who toil to produce them will perhaps have some consideration and respect shown to them by those who worship the golden calf. Cleveland begins to learn there is handwriting on the wall that means fature oblivion to his policy when President, and he is begging his kind not to nominate Bryan; but he begs in vain, because his power and influence is now shiefly confined to Cleveland.

WALLACE AND BRAGG.

A fellow feeling in our bosoms make us wondrous kind. Allen Bragg and Charley Wallace were observed by profane eyes last evening in a confidential convergation in Reno. Charley, according to late issues of the Gazette, has been in Carson flxing up his fences about the capitol and other grounds in the capital city.

Bryan by the Democratic party, I published a card in the Silver State in which I stated that because of Mr. Bryan's nomination and because of the ended. I will state now that that was my belief then. It has been my belief ever sluce.

The Silver party of Nevada was organized for a purpose. It came into life in 1892 because neither of the old parties recognized the eilver question by either candidate or platform. I was instrumental in the organization of that party because I was sincere in the advocacy of the remonstization of silver, and because I, like many others in this State, was tired of the humbuggery of the old parties and desired to to be able to cast at least one ballot for a candidate whom I knew favored, and whose party platform declared allegiance to the silver cause. I have said many times since I published the the card that in case the Democratic party had done in 1892 what they did 1896—that is, given us a free coinage candidate and platform, the Silver party would not have been organized. A Story of John Morrissey. Henry L. Dawes of Pittsfield, Mass., successor of Charles Sumner in the senate, told the following story:

"When I was a judge in Pittsfield. Morrissey and Yankee Sullivan fought a prize fight at a neighboring place called Boston Corners. Sullivan was arrested and fined $1,000. He handed over the money and went his way. A day or two later, while I was sitting on bench, a fine looking the courtroom and sent a letter up to me. It was from a friend of mine introducing John Morrissey. He, too, was fined $1,000 and said to me that he would send me his check on his return to New York. "Well, I didn't know what might happen if he was let go on that understanding, but I said to Morrissey that any arrangement for settlement which he made with the sheriff would be satisfactory. The sheriff, feeling as I did, insisted upon having the fine paid in cash, and since Morrissey didn't happen to have that much cash with him the sheriff locked him up until the amount was sent on from New

"I fancied that Morrissey felt he owed me a grudge because of this incident. Years afterward in Washington a number of new congressmen were brought up to be introduced to me. Among them was Morrissey, When he came forward, he smiled and said, 'Mr. Dawes, I believe we have met before."

She "Sassed Her."

Some visitors to East Gloucester paid a special call upon the woman said to be the original of Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward's famous story, "A Madonna of the Tubs." Mrs. Phelps Ward's summer home, be it known, is in East Gloucester. The visitors found a typical New Englander with a self evident capacity for taking care of herself.

"So you are the Madonna of the Tubs?" said the visitors.
"I am," said the New Englander.

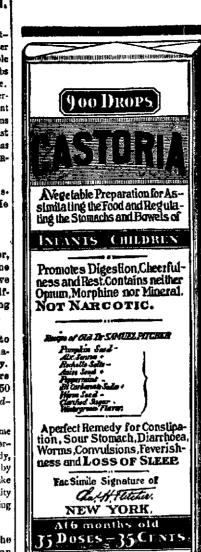

"And Mrs. Phelps Ward wrote a beautiful story about you?" "She did."

"Have you ever met Mrs. Ward?" "I have. After she wrote that story she came round here one day and hunt-to see me for herself," "How interesting!" murmured the visitors. "And what did you do?"

"Do?" repeated the Madonna of the Tubs. "What did I do? I sassed her well for writin such a story as that about me. Such a pack of lies I never read. Why, there wasn't one-half of it true. And she had the face to come and see me afterward! Ob, I sassed her well, I did!"-New York Sun.

Unappreciative. "Shall I sing 'Because I Love You?" asked Mrs. Darley as she seated herself at the plane.

"No," replied Mr. Darley, who is a brute. "If you love me, don't sing,"-Detroit Free Press.
